

Health folder

A template to gather diagnoses, tests, medication and key contacts.

Understanding the condition

Words without fear and questions that order the path.

A glossary without fear

Some terms sound big. Here we tell them calmly: they describe processes and supports, they do not define who you or your relative are.

Neurological condition

A condition of the nervous system (brain, spinal cord or nerves). Many are accompanied and quality of life improves with support.

Neurology

The medical specialty that studies and treats these conditions.

Rehabilitation

Therapies to recover or compensate functions and gain autonomy.

Chronic

Something that stays for a long time; it is managed, cared for and lived with.

Palliative care

Support focused on well-being and easing discomfort; it adds quality of life at any stage.

Adherence

Following the agreed plan (medication, therapies, check-ups) consistently.

Making the most of the visit

Time with the medical team is precious. Arriving with written questions helps you not forget what matters.

- ✓ What is the condition called and what does it mean day to day?
- ✓ What signs should I watch for, and which are urgent?
- ✓ What is each medication for and what effects should I expect?
- ✓ Which therapies help, and how often?
- ✓ Who do I call with a question or during a crisis?

Bring someone

Four ears hear better than two. Ask for written summaries and don't hesitate to say "could you put it another way?".

Organizing the information

A single folder — physical or digital — with reports, tests, medication and contacts avoids repeating your story and speeds up every visit.
