

Daily care plan

A checklist for medication, mobility, nutrition and rest.

Daily care at home

Safe medication, mobility, nutrition and rest.

Safe medication

- ✓ Respect times and doses; use alarms or a weekly pill organizer.
- ✓ Do not stop or change doses without consulting: some drugs need gradual adjustment.
- ✓ Note any effects you notice and mention them at the next visit.
- ✓ Keep an up-to-date medication list always at hand.

Changes, with the team

Stopping certain medications abruptly — for example, some antiseizure drugs — can be risky. Any change should be agreed with your doctor.

Mobility and fall prevention

- Remove loose rugs and cables; add good lighting.
- Support rails in the bathroom and hallways if needed.
- Use the indicated aids (cane, walker) without shame: they give freedom.
- Frequent position changes if a lot of time is spent in bed or a chair.

Nutrition, skin and rest

If there is difficulty swallowing (dysphagia), follow the guidance on textures and position while eating, and consult if there is frequent coughing or choking.

- Mind hydration and a diet adapted to the guidance.
- Check the skin at pressure areas to prevent sores.
- Protect sleep: stable schedules and a calm environment.
